

Andrew Balfour and Jim Vagonis

OWNERS, HASSLE FREE HOME SERVICES

One of the biggest challenges for seniors looking to stay in the home they have loved for decades is the day-to-day list of maintenance and repairs needed to keep the home safe and sound. Jim Vagonis and Andrew Balfour founded Hassle Free Home Services more than 15 years ago with that exact challenge in mind. While their contract-based, monthly maintenance and home management service delivers value for all homeowners, it delivers special benefits for seniors looking to stay in their homes.

“Nobody likes maintenance chores,” says Vagonis, “but for older homeowners it becomes more difficult and even unsafe to take care of these important tasks.” Hassle Free takes on that responsibility for the customer. With a dedicated home manager and service tech, the customer has a team they can trust. “Our main goal,” says Balfour, “is to deliver peace of mind for our customers.”
